

David Lamb is the President and CEO of Oxford Bank, headquartered in northern Oakland County, serving businesses and people throughout southeastern Michigan. He has been a banking executive for more years than he is willing to share (30 plus) and has loved (almost) every minute of it because banking is ultimately about helping people and communities have a better life! He is a lifelong member of the Y movement and believes fervently in its mission to help the Washtenaw community build a healthy spirit, mind and body. Dave lives in the rural part of Superior Township with his wife, Chris, two dogs and 15 chickens.
